

Free course trailer

Leading School Learning Through Covid 19 and Beyond

Narrator:

Become a digitally informed and empowered leader and learn how to help your school, academy or college respond more effectively to technology-driven change.

Whether you are already in a leadership role or you have one in your sights, The Strategic Planning For Online Learning: A Whole School Approach course will equip you to lead the digital agenda in your institution.

We'll inspire you and give you the tools, knowledge and confidence to pass that inspiration on to others within your organisation.

You'll explore the role of leadership across a range of digital-related issues and the way they influence organisational strategy and individual practice.

You'll discover what makes a 'digital' leader. You will review obstacles that prevent changes in practice and strategy, map your digital practice and be empowered to lead your strategy with governors, trustees and external stakeholders.

By the end of the course, you'll have an action plan for becoming a more effective digital and sustainable organisation.