

Introducing religions

Greek orthodox Holy communion

Narrator:

The Orthodox tradition uses ordinary bread and wine, which when blessed are mysteriously changed.

The Holy Gifts as they are known are prepared by the Priests at the altar and are greatly revered.

The bread and wine are mixed together, and are brought out to the people, and administered by the priest.

(CLEAR FOCUS PRODUCTIONS)