

Introduction to sport, fitness and management

This series of tracks looks at Health and Fitness centres and how they are run as well as providing an insight into the training of future elite athletes in Britain. Material is taken from The Open University Course E112 Introduction to sport, fitness and management.