

Nouvelles Mises au Point

Introduction

These video and audio tracks were designed to accompany the Open University Course "Nouvelles Mises au Point" - an advanced level French course. They give practice in listening to sometimes quite extended pieces of French, recorded throughout the French-speaking world. The idea is to understand the gist rather than every word and to become familiar with different accents. Try just watching and listening to understand as much as possible though there are transcripts available if you need to check something."
