I think the existence of those programs highlight that citizenship has become a means to control of what we would call the 99% of society, while it adapts to the logic of tax escape as we kind of used to see from big corporations such as Starbucks, Google, Apple Boots, to the private investor.

And seeing the increasing migration happening worldwide and dangers taken by refugees fleeing from their country, those prices can be also seen as putting a price on the life of a human being. And that is obviously a huge problem.
